DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 30 is objected to because of the following informalities: In line 2, "is" should be deleted. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4-11, 13-17, 19-21 and 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Poschinger (4566589).

The Poschinger reference discloses:

Regarding claims 16 and 29, A gas container (1; propane gas cylinder) for storing gases under pressures exceeding 50 bar comprising an electrically conducting stretched aluminum material (4; see Figure 3). Further, the container is capable of being pressurized to over 200 bar.

Regarding claims 17, 28 and 30, wherein the stretched material has a volumetric content of 2 to 4 %, which is the range of 0.5 to 8.5 percent and 1.0 to 5.0 percent of the total volume of the container (see col. 3, line 66 - col. 4, line 3).

Regarding claim 19, wherein the stretched material is arranged ascending from a base of the container (see Figure 6).

Regarding claim 20, wherein the stretched material is uniformly distributed throughout the entire volume of the container (see Figure 6).

Regarding claim 21, wherein stretched material is arranged in the area of an opening of the gas container. As seen in Figure 1, the filler inlay (4) is arranged in the area of the opening (at valve 5) in the tank.

Regarding claims 1, 2, 4-11 and 13-15, the method as claimed would be inherent during normal use and operation of the device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Poschinger in view of Schrenk (4613054).

The Poschinger reference discloses the invention substantially as claimed (discussed supra), but doesn't disclose the stretched material (4) being in separate spherical or cylindrical forms. However, the Schrenk (4613054) reference discloses another gas container having spherical filler bodies (10) to prevent explosive combustion in combustible liquid or gases in receptacles. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to fill the Poschinger device with spherical stretched material in place of the present form of stretched material as, for example, taught by Schrenk, wherein so doing would amount to mere substitution of one functional equivalent form of stretched material for another within the same art and the selection of any of these would work equally well in the Poschinger device.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Poschinger.

Poschinger discloses the invention as claimed (discussed supra), but does not disclose the stretched material being made of plastic. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the device of plastic, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 22-27 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited prior art of record pertains to various gas containers filled with stretched material, similar to Applicant's device.
